

Because what I have read since sending my original comments, this is an addendum to those coments:

1. I read that the Federeal rules would apply only to interstate calls. If this is true, then state rules should be allowed to apply to intrastate calls.
 2. The FCC should NOT preempt state law which prohibits unwanted calls from companies with which I have previously done business...credit crfd campanies, phone companies, and anybody else that considers me an "exhisting customer."
- Thank you for this opportnity to comment.
